

course, came here Thursday and wanted us to pass $700 billion, and they want us to pass this very soon. So “rapidly” sometimes is in the eye of the beholder.

The point is, you’re correct; there was a discrepancy. We think that was not fair. It was not intentional. But Mr. ARCURI, who gave the information to the minority and the information that was on the Web site, was not correct. We think, under those circumstances, in fairness to all, that we ought to redo this, and that’s what we intend to do. And we discussed it with your leadership and we all agreed that that was the right thing to do.

Mr. SESSIONS. Continuing my reservation, I would say to the gentleman that we’re not in any hurry over here in doing it right. The Republican Party is not in a rush, and we would wish for us to do very deliberately that which needs to be done.

Mr. HASTINGS of Washington. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. SESSIONS. I would yield to the gentleman from Washington.

Mr. HASTINGS of Washington. I appreciate the gentleman yielding.

Mr. Speaker, this is really very, very important because we are at the last days of this session and we know there is a rush to try to get things done. And I understand that it was a book-keeping—it wasn’t intentional. I understand all of that, we’ve been through this before. But the significance of this, and it needs to be understood by this body as we are being asked in the future to make some big decisions, the difference in this little error was $100 million. It wasn’t small potatoes, so to speak. And I just want to say that the right thing to do—and I hope this is what’s going to happen—is that the Rules Committee goes back upstairs and reports it out correctly so we can have the text. But I think that point needs to be made. And I appreciate the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. HOYER. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. SESSIONS. I would yield to the gentleman.

Mr. HOYER. I told the gentleman from Washington that’s exactly what I’m trying to do, which is why I thought it best to obviate the vote so we can do exactly what you’ve suggested. I’ve discussed it with your leadership and they’ve agreed. I hope we can do that, and I hope there’s not an objection.

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my reservation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the vote on adoption of the resolution is vacated.

There was no objection.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that both the vote on the adoption of the rule and the vote on the previous question be vacated.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Maryland?

There was no objection.

Mr. ARCURI. Mr. Speaker, under the rules, I withdraw House Resolution 1501.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The resolution is withdrawn.
